

Made In Clovis: A Celebration of Creativity At ClovisFest

Eligibility

All participants must create their own work. Resale, import, professional vendors, and otherwise sourced goods are not what this portion of ClovisFest is about. This is for truly new and unique items and exhibits. The name of the event is “Made in Clovis,” but don’t get hung up if you don’t live or work here. If you are from Fresno County, we want to see what you got. Food vendors may only sell or give away pre-packaged food and a current health permit (food) for Fresno County or the State of California. Vendors are responsible for their own sales, collecting sales tax, and reporting to the BOE.

Space for each category is extremely limited it is possible that not all applicants will be accepted. If you are not selected, please don’t take it personally, we will keep you informed about other opportunities. Once your application is submitted you will be notified of your acceptance.

Prior or current vendors at Big Hat Days or ClovisFest are not eligible to participate in the Made In Clovis section of ClovisFest. This section is for amateur entrepreneurs/creators/innovators that are ready to showcase their talents to the world.

Booth Fees & Sizes

All booth spaces are $50 per space. All vending/booth spaces are 10’ x 10’.

Booth Set-Up and Operation

In addition to the load in/load out and general event information, please note that you are responsible for your own display(s), tents, canopies, umbrellas, tables, chairs, and anything else you need to sell or display your goods. There are no items available to rent and/or borrow on the day of the event. You may not vacate your provided space before the event is over on each day; no early tear down. All generators must receive prior approval and will be determined by booth location availability. Further rules and regulations will be forwarded to participants if accepted.

Physical Layout

- Made in Clovis will take place during ClovisFest, the last weekend of September from 8am-5pm each day (Saturday and Sunday).
- Made in Clovis will be located on Pollasky Avenue, between Seventh and Eighth Street
